

Saturday 12th June 2010

` Learning to Paint! `

A creative painting workshop with Shirley Bonas BA (Hons)
For beginners and `improvers`

10.30am-4.00pm venue: the Education Room, Bewdley Museum (10 places £15.00 pp)

Shirley Bonas is a Bewdley-based painter and former lecturer at Stourbridge Art College, with many years of experience in Further Education.

As part of this year`s Bewdley Open Studios, Shirley will be presenting a workshop in the Education Room at Bewdley Museum that explores a range of painting techniques in different media.

If you are a beginner and wish to explore different approaches to painting for the first time, or you are someone who wishes to `brush up` on their technique , improve and further develop your talent and interest, then this one day workshop is for you.

The Aim of the day is to explore painting techniques, develop and gently test your skills, share your experiences and most important of all, have fun and enjoy yourself!

What to bring? There will be an introduction to a range of painting materials. Some materials will be available on the day but students are requested to bring along a selection of their own preferred medium (a small easel may also be useful).

...and a packed lunch!

Please wear some old clothes that you don`t mind getting slightly messy!

For further information about the course please telephone Shirley Bonas on 01299 400742 or 07899 840035

BOOKING DETAILS: Places are limited. Advance booking and payment essential.
For a booking form contact Bewdley Museum on 01299 403573/404740 or email bewdley.museum@wyreforestdc.gov.uk

